Off Road Speedway's regular season offers competitive feature races

By RANDY POSPISHIL

Norfolk Daily News

Off Road Speedway presented a night of regular-season racing on Saturday night with six classes of cars providing heat races and features as IMCA points racing entered its second week.

The race of the night occurred in the IMCA Hobby Stocks "A" feature where the winner, Joe Beller, held sole possession of the lead for all of a single lap.

Beller's first attempt was nullified by a caution that prevented the Norfolk driver's pass of race leader Mark Arduser midway through the 15-lap race from being official because a lap was not completed.

But Beller, along with Gage Koch and Anthony Bruhn, continued his pursuit of Arduser for the next six laps before Beller managed to gain an edge as the pair exited turn four and began the final lap.

Beller stayed out front for the win while Battle Creek's Arduser — who accumulated 14 laps with the lead — held off a challenge on his inside by Koch to take second with Norfolkian Koch earning third place.

In the IMCA Late Models "A" feature, Bloomfield racer Devin Johnson used a starting position on the pole to produce a solid lead and hold it during all 20 laps for the win. Beau Johnson finished second, but a post-race tech irregularity resulted in a two-position penalty, dropping the Plainview driver to fourth and moving up Newman Grove's Cory Dumpert into second place and Columbus racer Anthony Roth to third.

Austin Brauner required a longer journey to the front for his IMCA Stock Cars victory, starting on the inside of the fourth row, but the Platte Center driver secured the lead following a caution just three laps into the race and held it the rest of the 15-lap event. Likewise, Neligh's Cameron Wilkinson, who began the race on Brauner's outside, made his way into second but was unable to close on Brauner and settled for second place.

Justin Addison of Meadow Grove came out on top of a three-way battle for third with Neligh's Kyle Wilkinson and Norfolk's Eric Haase to finish third.

Norfolkian Colby Langenberg turned the momentum he established on the high side of the track into a runaway win in the IMCA SportMods "A" feature.

Meanwhile, multiple cars competed for second place, with Riley Osantowski of Columbus holding onto his position just ahead of Sloan, Iowa, driver Willy Kirk, who finished third. Gilbert Aldape, from Sioux City, Iowa, made his first experience at Off Road Speedway into a successful one by winning the Pro IV feature.

Although he began the race with a starting position five rows back, Aldape took the lead from Kiegan Werner three laps into the 10-lap race with a pass on the outside of turn four, then held it despite two cautions.

Likewise, Trent Reed of Mondamin, Iowa, made his way from a starting position on Aldape's inside to chasing the leader for six laps before settling for second place, with Pierce driver Werner taking third.

Christopher Nickolite won the track's second Crown Vic "A" feature of the season, challenging for the front spot on the backstretch and coming out of turn four with the lead. Pole-sitter and early leader Grayson Stobbe of Columbus hung onto second place, while Norfolk's Aden Mielke was third in the five-car field.

On Saturday, April 26, Off Road Speedway is scheduled to host the Dirt Super Late Models and cars from the SLMR Late Model Series along with the IMCA Stock Cars, IMCA Hobby Stocks, IMCA SportMods and Pro Stock IV cars.
