Various starting positions get to victory lane at Off Road Speedway

By RANDY POSPISHIL

sports@norfolkdailynews.com May 4, 2025

A starting position in the front row was no guarantee for success in any of the six “A” features at Off Road Speedway on Saturday night. In fact, row two produced more winners —three — than any other grid location, and a couple drivers made it into Victory Lane from well back in the field.

Cory Dumpert, Off Road Speedway’s IMCA Late Models track champion a year ago, got his first win of the season at the track after making the most of a second-row starting spot.

Dumpert took over the lead four laps into the 25-lap race by using the high side of the track to pass the early leader, Nelson Vollbrecht of Stanton, coming out of turn four, then held off several challenges by Vollbrecht during the next few laps before Norfolk’s Chase Osborne took over second place. Osborne chased Dumpert for four laps until he was supplanted by Anthony Roth of Columbus, and the race became a two-car contest for first place while Osborne, Vollbrecht and Aurora driver Dylan Schmer battled for third. Although he neared lapped traffic coming out of turn four, Dumpert, of Newman Grove, was able to navigate his way across the finish line unimpeded for the win with Roth taking second. Osborne was able to come out on top of the three-way competition for third place just ahead of Schmer and Vollbrecht.

Similarly, Kyle Wilkinson of Neligh used the high side of the track to earn a win in the IMCA Stock Cars “A” feature. Wilkinson charged out of the second row into the lead almost immediately and remained out front until his brother, Cameron, was able to pass on the inside of turn four — setting up a brother vs, brother battle that lasted until a late caution that set up a green-white-checked finish. Meanwhile, Platte Center’s Austin Brauner had steadily made his way from the fourth row into a competition with Neligh driver Derek Sehi for third, passing Sehi just two laps before the caution. On the ensuing restart, Kyle Wilkinson got his chance to pass when Cameron Wilkinson’s car slid up the track in turn three during the first lap, and Brauner followed. One lap later, Brauner briefly held the advantage as the pair left turn four before, on the final lap, Kyle Wilkinson once again got to the front as Brauner’s car skidded sideways as the two drivers exited the last turn and headed to the finish line. The win was Kyle Wilkinson’s first of the season at Off Road Speedway in the Stock Cars division, while Brauner grabbed second place ahead of Cameron Wilkinson.

Brayden Hurley of Grand Island made the most of his first appearance at the Norfolk track, bolting to the front from the inside of the second row and staying there despite two cautions for an IMCA Hobby Stocks feature win. Once again, the primary competition was behind the leader where Albion’s Travis Landauer moved up from the middle of the pack to battle Time Prichett, Jr. of Beemer for second place during the final 10 laps of the 15-lap event. Ultimately, Landauer was able to pull away to close on Hurley, as Wayne’s Dakota Spann and Neligh’s Jason Wilkinson joined Pritchett, Jr. to compete for third.

Hurley secured the victory as Landauer’s final bid to pass on the inside of turn four was unsuccessful, with Pritchett benefiting from Spann’s spinout while leaving turn two into the backstretch and holding off Jason Wilkinson at the flagstand.

Pierce racer Cameron Meyer won an IMCA SportMod “A” feature for the second time this season at Off Road Speedway. Meyer started in the fifth of eight rows in the field of 16 cars but joined the leaders within the first five laps and took the lead for good by passing Kyle Wilkinson on the inside of turn four with seven laps left. Meyer finalized the win on the inside, while Kyle Wilkinson, unable to gain enough momentum on the high side of the track to pass, finished second. Sloan, Iowa, driver Willy Kirk made another appearance at Off Road Speedway, parlaying a position on Meyer’s inside of row five into a third place finish — his second top five finish this season at the track.

The top three places in the Pro Stock 4 division went to cars that started ninth (Zach Cordner, Norfolk), eighth (Kiegan Werner, Pierce), and seventh (Bentley Freeman, Norfolk) among the 11 cars entered. Werner took the lead following a caution three laps into the 10-lap feature, but held it for only a single lap when Cordner took over — holding on the final five laps for the win, with Werner finishing just ahead of Freeman.

Christopher Nickolite of Bellwood won his third Crown Vics “A” feature in three tries, while Albion’s Carter Lueken took second place and Kelly Mielke of Norfolk third.
