Special night for first-time winners and veteran at Off Road Speedway

A pair of first-time winners in their respective divisions of Saturday night's feature races at Off Road Speedway created what will be fond memories for years to come. For Landyn Roebuck (Hobby Stocks) and Tucker Knust (Crown Vics), that first victory at the Norfolk track did not come easily — winning races in a competitive field normally doesn't — as evidenced by Scott Styskal's near miss at achieving his first win at Off Road Speedway. Another highlight of Saturday's regular slate of racing was achieved by Newman Grove's Cory Dumpert, who garnered his 100th career IMCA Late Models win.

Roebuck, of Genoa, won his first IMCA Hobby Stocks "A" feature by using a solid driving effort that kept him among the front three cars as he pursued race leader Dalton Young and Travis Landauer during the initial seven laps. Roebuck then took advantage of a caution and restart to squeeze past Landauer into second place before inheriting the lead five laps later when Young suffered a flat rear tire in the midst of turns three and four that forced a second caution with just three laps left. Roebuck maintained the lead during the green-white-checkered finish for the win despite intense pressure behind him from Landauer who, unfortunately, spun out as he entered turn four on the final lap. That misfortune allowed Wayne's Dakota Spann, who earned a spot in the seventh of 10 rows in the "A" feature by finishing first among the "B" feature's four qualifiers, to take over second place and Norfolk Joe Beller to finish third.

Tucker Knust's win in the Crown Vics' feature was a wire-to-wire victory, using a starting position on the pole to take the lead and hold it while fighting off repeated challenges all race long by Josh Wiese of Osceola. Without a caution to close the distance of the other cars in the field, Knust — of Neligh — seized his first Off Road Speedway win with Wiese taking second place and Neligh's Damon Arehart finishing a distant third.

Styskal, a David City driver in his first season of racing at Off Road Speedway, found himself in an immediate multi-car competition chasing early leader Neil Bruns in the IMCA Stock Cars "A" feature. Styskal, Ron Pettitt and Tejay Mielke — who were soon joined by Kyle Wilkinson following the race's first caution just five laps in — formed a five-car group fighting for positioning throughout the 15-lap event. Styskal, with a pass of Bruns on the outside as the pair exited turn four, got the lead with nine laps remaining while the other cars continued to battle behind him — on one occasion creating a three-wide collection coming out of a tight turn four. During the white flag lap, Wilkinson made his first of two critical moves — the first passing Mielke to move into second place, and the second a late pass of Styskal in turn four to grab the lead as Styskal's car appeared to lose traction. With Wilkinson securing the lead just before the finish line and earning the win, the Neligh driver forced Styskal into a second-place finish while Mielke finished third.

Dumpert's landmark win in the IMCA Late Models feature required working his way from a starting position on the outside of row five of the field's six rows. After the race's first caution with 14 of the 20 laps remaining, Dumpert was still behind four other cars pursuing race leader Eric Vanosdall, but the lead was about to change hands. Colton Leal passed Vanosdall two laps later, but within three laps forced the feature's second caution when his car went sideways between turns three and four. Chase Osborne took over by passing Vanosdall on the inside of turn two and controlled the front spot until the race's final caution with six laps left.

Dumpert, who was now in third, gathered momentum on the outside and, within a single lap, used it to pull ahead of a three-car grouping including Vanosdall, Beau Johnson and Osborne.

Dumpert then held off Osborne's challenges on the inside for two consecutive laps before locking up the win. Osborne, of Norfolk, and Johnson, of Plainview, finished in second and third place, respectively.

Multiple drivers also took their turn at the front of the IMCA SportMods feature race, including Aiden Gnat, Justin Addison and, briefly, Wilkinson. Gnat's stint lasted until the race's first caution five laps into the 15-lap feature, when Addison took over by using momentum out of turn two to get to the front on the backstretch. Following a second caution with six laps — and just seven of the 11-car field — remaining, Wilkinson pulled even with Addison for two straight laps before Addison again retook the lead on the backstretch with four laps left. Wilkinson — who had notched an earlier win in the IMCA Stock Cars feature — tried one last time to pass, coming out of turn four on Addison's inside heading into the final lap before Addison finalized his win. Wilkinson finished second, while Pierce driver Cameron Meyer took third.

Following three race restarts and an early caution which shuffled the starting positions of the field, Bentley Freeman of Norfolk darted past Kyle Reed into the lead and held it during the final nine laps of the 10-lap Pro Stock 4 feature.

Meanwhile, Zach Cordner and Brenden Fleming, both of Norfolk finished second and third, respectively.
