Off Road Speedway feature winners determined late in races

By RANDY POSPISHIL

sports@norfolkdailynews.com Jun 15, 2025

An early lead was of little importance in any of the feature races during Saturday's regular night of racing at Off Road Speedway. In fact, only one of the winners of an IMCA "A" feature held the lead with more than five laps remaining.

That outlier, the IMCA Late Models feature, was won by Alex Banks of Newman Grove, who got to the front five laps into the 20-lap race. Banks, who started on the inside of row two, took the lead away from pole-sitter Ben Sukup and held on as a cluster of four cars battled for the opportunity to challenge the leader, but a caution-free journey allowed Banks to earn the win. Meanwhile, the trio of Norfolk's Sukup, Devin Johnson of Bloomfield and Cory Dumpert of Newman Grove continued the competition. Johnson, by moving to the inside, pulled alongside Sukup as the pair exited turn four and, after one more attempt to stay even by Sukup, Johnson secured second, leaving Sukup and Dumpert fighting for third. A daring cut to the inside between Johnson and Sukup coming out of turn two allowed Dumpert to get in front of Sukup during the final lap to take third.

In the other IMCA features, such as the IMCA Stock Cars race, the eventual race winner didn't acquire the lead until late in the action. Cameron Wilkinson started in the fifth of six rows in his No. 5 car and wasn't among the top seven cars until a series of three nearly consecutive cautions provided the opportunity to make moves while the cars were bunched together in the Delaware-double side-by-side alignment during the restart. After the first caution, Wilkinson moved into the top five and, after the second, darted between cars to be among the top three. Upon the third caution with six laps remaining, Wilkinson was behind a nearly side-by-side competition between fellow Neligh drivers Derek Sehi and Chuck Sands when Sands was out of contention after he lost control and grazed the wall in turn two.

Using the high side of the track, Wilkinson immediately passed Sehi on the next lap and maintained the lead the final four laps for the win. Sehi held onto second place while Chad Bruns of Wayne won a three-way battle for third over Neligh's Kyle Wilkinson and Lowell Roeber of Winnebago.

Similarly, Colby Langenberg's win in the IMCA SportMods "A" feature came about with a late lead. Langenberg chased pole-sitter Jacob Slough of Doniphan for the first 12 laps of the 15-lap event then, after attempting unsuccessfully to pass through turns one and two, adjusted to the outside with a move to the outside with three laps left. However, a caution occurred during the next lap with the two cars side by side, setting up a restart for a green-white-checkered finish that Langenberg — who was placed at the front of the field — was able to control for the victory. Slough held off a late charge by Sloan, Iowa, racer Willy Kirk as the two finished in second and third place, respectively.

In the IMCA Hobby Stocks feature, Cody Malasek of Emerson used a starting position on the outside of row one to lead the first three laps until Wayne driver Dakota Spann gained the lead one lap before the first of three cautions in the race. Spann held the front spot following each caution and was in the midst of a battle for the lead with Neligh's Jason Wilkinson during the next five laps. Then, with three laps left, everything changed at the front of the pack. One lap after securing the lead, Jason Wilkinson's car lost power with Spann and Anthony Nelson locked in a side-by-side battle for second place directly behind him. With Spann partially blocked by Jason Wilkinson, Nelson took over the lead, while Joe Beller and Gage Koch — both of Norfolk — also seized the opportunity to pass Spann with just two laps remaining. Nelson, of Plainview, won his first "A" feature of the season at Off Road Speedway, while Beller took second with Koch finishing third.

Although half of the 12-car field that began the Pro Stock 4 feature race did not finish, Norfolk drivers Bentley Freeman, Kyle Reed and Brenden Fleming finished one-two-three among the remaining cars.

In the Crown Vic race, Grayson Stobbe of Columbus picked up his third win of the season at Off Road Speedway. Aden Mielke of Norfolk earned second place while Josh Wiese of Osceola was third.

On Wednesday, the track will host a "Modifieds Midweek Special," as the United States Modified Touring Series cars will appear for the first time. Joining them will be area racers from the IMCA SportMods division.

There will be no racing at Off Road Speedway on Saturday.
