MSTS 410 Outlaw Sprint Cars make first appearance at Off Road Speedway

By RANDY POSPISHIL

sports@norfolkdailynews.com Aug 24, 2025

The 410 Outlaw Sprint Cars of the Midwest Touring Series Sprints made their first appearance ever at the Off Road Speedway as part of the track's annual Lynn Langenberg Memorial special.

A full-house crowd was entertained not only by the 410 Sprint Cars but also the four IMCA classes—including the IMCA Hobby Stocks "A" feature that finalized Neligh driver Jason Wilkinson's points championship — and also Pro Stock 4 and Crown Vic feature races.

Fireworks accompanied checkered flag finishes as a prelude to the fireworks display that wrapped up the Lynn Langenberg Memorial celebration.

It was also a special night for winning driver Koby Werkmeister, a 19-year-old from Armour, South Dakota, whose victory — the first of his career in the MSTS 410 division — meant a $5,000 payday. Werkmeister entered the night holding the second spot in the MSTS 410 points behind sprint car veteran Jack Dover. Werkmeister, who began the race on the pole with Dover on his outside, got to the front immediately as the race turned into a two-car battle for the lead during the initial 20 laps.

Meanwhile, behind the leaders, Jacob Peterson, Brant O'Banion and Tyler Drueke carried on their own competition for third place. Circumstances changed with five laps remaining when Dover's car lost traction and skidded up the track while navigating turns three and four. O'Banion took advantage, grabbing second place, with Peterson following into third as Dover took over the fifth spot. Four laps later, Werkmeister guided his No. 31 car across the finish line and into Victory Lane following a wire-to-wire first-ever "A" feature MSTS 410 Sprint Car win, but car placement behind him was adjusted post-race when O'Banion was disqualified.

Peterson of Hartford, South Dakota, was awarded second place with Drueke of Eagle moved up to third. Dover, from Springfield, and Tim Estenson of Fargo, North Dakota, finished in fourth and fifth place, respectively. "I honestly couldn't do it without the help from my dad, Elliot," Werkmeister said. "It was a fun track and a cool feeling to win in front of a packed crowd."

Ironically, Wilkinson's IMCA Hobby Stocks "A" feature ended with his No. 52 car upside down in turn three with four laps remaining after a four-car pileup. Norfolk's Gage Koch started on the pole and maintained a spot behind early leader Seth Steinmeyer for several laps before moving into second and beginning a pursuit of new race leader Travis Landauer with seven laps left. But that chase lasted just three laps when Koch's car was jostled up against and then sideways onto the wall as the cars moved down the backstretch and were about to enter turn three. As the car bounced back onto the track, drivers Koch, Wilkinson, Seth Steinmeyer and Dalton Young all became entangled — with Wilkinson's car being tipped over in the process. All four cars were incapacitated and towed from the track while race leader Landauer remained unscathed in the front spot, with a new group of cars aligned behind him on the restart. Landauer, of Albion, held on for the win, with Norfolkans

Trevor Frisch and Wyatt Lehman taking second and third place, respectively. Wilkinson, who entered the night with a 58-point cushion at the top of the points list, secured the championship by finishing 40 points ahead of runner-up Landauer. Lehman was third in the final points list, with Dakota Spann of Wayne in fourth and Trevor Frisch rounding out the top five.

Another points leader, Chase Osborne of Norfolk, will take a 17-point advantage into Saturday's championship night after earning a feature win in the IMCA Late Models division. Osborne passed pole-sitter Brock Carlson on the inside of turn four with 15 of the 20 laps remaining, then built a substantial lead on the field before finalizing the victory. Norfolk's Ben Sukup finished second ahead of Columbus driver Anthony Roth, who gradually moved up from a starting position in row five to take third.

Tejay Mielke of Norfolk started on the outside of row one and turned that starting position into an IMCA Stock Cars victory, leading all 15 laps with Derek Sehi of Neligh taking second place and Tyler Iverson of Albion finishing third. Genoa racer James Roebuck continued a steady series of Off Road Speedway performances in the IMCA SportMods class, taking advantage of a first-lap caution and restart that moved him from the outside of the second row into the same spot in the first row. Roebuck grabbed the lead and, within three laps left, began to pull away from the field for a straightaway-length win. Cameron Meyer of Pierce came out on top of a three-car battle for second place, eventually finishing ahead of third-place driver Rusty Montagne of North Sioux City, South Dakota.

Youngsters won “A” features in the Pro Stock 4 and Crown Vics divisions.

Bentley Freeman, an eighth-grader from Norfolk, won his second Pro Stock 4 feature race with a pair of Iowans — Alyssa Thies of Mapleton and Mike Vogt of Sioux City — finishing in second and third place, respectively.

Grayson Stobbe, a 13-year-old racer from Columbus, won his second Off Road Speedway Crown Vic “A” feature. Damon Arehart of Neligh finished second with Norfolk’s Aden Mielke taking third. The 2025 racing season at Off Road Speedway will conclude on Saturday with championship night racing for IMCA Late Models, IMCA Stock Cars and IMCA SportMods, along with the Pro Stock 4 and Crown Vic classes. The IMCA Hobby Stocks will hold a special event — the first-ever Wyatt Frisch Hobby Stock Memorial Race. Saturday will also be Off Road Speedway's fan appreciation night with free admission to all racing fans in attendance.
