Off Road Speedway opens 2026 season with record car count

By RANDY POSPISHIL sports@norfolkdailynews.com

Area racers have apparently been eagerly awaiting the opening of the 2026 racing season. The evidence could be found in the record number of cars entered — 120 total — in the six classes of racing at Off Road Speedway on Saturday night. Twenty-four of those were on the track for the green flag in the IMCA Tri-State Late Models “A” feature, a 35-lap special event with a $3,000 purse going to the winner — Norfolkian Tad Pospisil.

Pospisil, who met with misfortune in the group’s opener the night before at Park Jefferson International Speedway in Sioux City, Iowa, used a starting position on the pole and a couple timely cautions to win at Off Road Speedway. During Friday’s “Mayday Madness” Tri-State Late Models event at Park Jefferson, Pospisil — who was leading — got tangled up and, as a result, was unable to finish the race being listed among the nine cars in the 26-car field that did not complete the 30 laps. But on Saturday, Pospisil repeatedly re-established significant leads on Justin Zeitner — Friday’s winner — and the field, including the five occasions when caution/re-starts returned the field to his rear bumper. Two of those, however, were actually advantageous, as the cautions arrived just as Pospisil was catching up to and beginning to deal with lapped traffic cars, which can obstruct the preferred line that the cars in the front hope to travel. In those cases — including with seven laps remaining — the caution cleared the track ahead and, although cars were close by on the restart, Pospisil was able to rebuild his advantage and secure the win unscathed. Zeitner, of Malvern, Iowa — whose starting position was also in the front row, on the outside — finished second, while Jacob Hobscheidt of Plattsmouth was third.

Rounding out the top five were Morgan Ward Grosz of Watertown, South Dakota, and Cody Thompson of Sioux City. The next highest finish by an area racer came from Beau Johnson of Plainview, who was eighth.

Cameron Meyer of Pierce won the IMCA SportMods “A” feature after completing a long and winding journey from the outside of the sixth row through the 11 cars starting ahead of him. Meyer didn’t join the the three cars in the front of the pack until just 10 laps remained, pulling ahead of a pair of Norfolk drivers — Colby Langenberg and Aiden Gnat — in the process, then chased down and got by race leader Kyle Wilkinson as the duo entered turn three and exited turn four with only five laps left before clinching the victory. Wilkinson took second place while Rusty Montagne of North Sioux City, South Dakota, finished third.

Six drivers were in the mix for a win in the IMCA Hobby Stocks feature — Travis Landauer, Cody Malasek, Wyatt Lehman, Nate Buck, Dakota Spann of Wayne and Jason Wilkinson of Neligh. Buck held the lead briefly after enjoying a starting position on the pole until Jason Wilkinson took over the front spot two laps into the 20-lap race with Spann in a pursuit that continued for the next 16 laps —with Jason Wilkinson holding onto the lead despite a pair of cautions. However, everything changed during the final two chaotic laps. With drivers looking for space where opportunities to pass disappeared as quickly as they had seemed available, contact occurred between multiple cars as they completed the front stretch. Ultimately, Landauer was able to move forward from third to first, earning the win as Malasek benefited from following Landauer through the crowd to finish second. Norfolk’s Lehman, who had begun the race five rows back, didn’t appear among the contenders until working his way into the top six with seven laps left and steadily got into position to seize third place as the jostling ended with the cars completing the final lap. He edged Neligh’s Buck, who had fallen back to fifth and sixth place during the middle portion of the race, then returned to challenge the leaders before having to settle for fourth just ahead of Spann.

Kaden Reynolds of Norfolk started on the pole and led all 15 laps to win the IMCA Stock Cars "A" feature. Austin Brauner of Platte Center moved up from the fifth row — eight cars behind Reynolds — to third during the first five laps, but found himself on the rear bumper of Tejay Mielke for the next 11 trips around the track. But Brauner was able to make his move exiting turn two with two laps remaining, using a slide maneuver to pass Mielke and take over second place while Derek Sehi of Neligh followed along closely to edge Mielke for third at the finish line.

Green-white-checked finishes determined the conclusions of the IMCA Sport Compacts and Crown Vic feature races.

Kiegan Werner, last season's IMCA Sport Compact rookie of the year award winner, benefited from a late collision involving the race leaders that incapacitated one car and sent the other to the rear of the field and left Werner with just one car ahead of him — Bentley Freeman — with three laps left in the 12-lap race. A quick move to the inside as the cars entered turn one on the restart provided Werner with the victory two laps later, while Freeman finished second and Frank Simpson of Ashland took third place.

Grayson Stobbe converted a starting position on the pole into a win the Crown Vics feature, although the Columbus driver did lose the lead twice along the way in the 10-lap race. Second place went to Hunter Betzen of David City, while Darik Fox of Stanton finished third.

Saturday's results: All drivers from Norfolk unless indicated
