Parker Vollbrecht of Stanton slid into the second spot on the second lap and followed Meyer to the finish.

Bo Cleveland of Norfolk made a last lap pass on Dylan Kesting to finish third. Kesting was fourth and Jeremy Shell of Columbus rounded out the top 5.

Runner-up finisher, Jason Wilkinson, congratulates his son and winner Kyle Wilkinson.

Wilkinsons one, two

The Stock Car division had plenty of action and when the checkered flag was dropped, it was the Wilkinsons of Neligh finishing first and second.

Kyle Wilkinson held off his dad, Jason, in the final laps to take the win over the two-time defending division champ.

Chad Bruns of Wakefield led 11 laps and battled with Austin Brauner of Platte Center for the lead throughout most of the first half of the race.

The cars did touch and Brauner's car faded. He caught a caution, pitted and returned to the track. In the final nine laps, he passed eight cars to finish sixth.

First to pass Bruns was Kyle Wilkinson after the final restart. Jason Wilkinson got by four laps later.

Jason got a bumper close to his son, but Kyle took the win and Jason second. Bruns took home third.

Justin Addison of Norfolk tried to pass Bruns on the high side but jumped the cushion. Kyle Dumpert of Utica slid under and made the pass to take fourth. Addison was fifth.

Above, Chad Bruns (11) races with Jaycee Bruns (15) in their heat race. Chad led 10 laps, before finishing third in the feature. Below, Jason Wilkinson (5) leads Kyle Wilkinson (52) in their heat race. Jason won the heat race and Kyle later won the feature. Right, TeJay Mielke (77) enters turn three on two wheels.

Robbie Thome (1T) won his first feature of the season.

Thome takes feature win

Leading 17 of the 18 laps, Robbie Thome ran a constant race to win his first feature of the season.

The Spalding driver hugged the inside line and was able to maintain a slight lead on second through most of the race.

Kyle Prauner of Norfolk ran second for most of the feature with David Johnson of Columbus passing Prauner a couple times for the position.

James Roebuck of Genoa made his presence known with several laps remaining but was unable to make the pass for second.

Thome was first, Prauner second and Roebuck third.

Top finishers in the Hobby Stocks were Gage Koch (3rd), Cameron Wilkinson (2nd) and winner Cory Probst.

Probst takes victory

With 11 laps, nine cautions and two flipped cars, the Hobby Stocks feature race was cut short. In the end, Cory Probst was the winner.

The Brewster, MN, driver led eight laps and held off defending track champion Cameron Wilkinson of Neligh in the final green-white-checked finish.

The red flag was thrown on lap eight when Wyatt Lehman and Trent Johnson got together. Lehman started to roll when Brooke Fluckiger of Columbus had nowhere to go and collided with Lehman's car.

Fluckiger's car then climbed Lehman's half flipped car and both cars rolled to end up on their roofs. All three drivers walked from the incident.

But that did not seem to calm the field, as three more cautions were thrown.

Race officials felt the race had gone on long enough and shortened the race.

Probst edged out Wilkinson by a car length. Third went to Norfolk's Gage Koch, who led two laps earlier in the race. Lance Mielke of Norfolk placed fourth and Travis Coover of Neligh grabbed fifth.
